

PRESS CUTTING

Page 1 of 1

· IN BRIEF ·

Renaissance Care founder offers pledge on homes

Landlords at nine north-east care homes formerly run by Southern Cross have approached the founder of Renaissance Care to take on the sites.

The Aberdeenshire homes, plus one in Fife and another in Edinburgh, are expected to be run by Robert Kilgour from October.

He has promised to keep the care homes open, meaning all 500 beds will remain available and 800 jobs will be secured.

Locations of the homes have not been identified as all residents have yet to be informed of the move.